

OSRM Routing & Response Processing State Machine

This state machine illustrates how the system prepares routing payloads, communicates with OSRM, validates incoming responses, decodes geometry, and ensures route integrity. If any step fails (such as payload errors, timeouts, decoding issues, or sanity check violations) the workflow terminates in an error state. Successful processing leads to a fully verified accept state.

